Discuss Valley Gateway Zoning

Like a voice from the past, discussion of zoning at the gateway to Carmel Valley was heard again Tuesday night during a board of directors meeting of Carmel Unincorporated. The organization devoted itself to a year-long fight to keep commercialization out of the valley's entrance near Highway 1, but little had been heard of the question for the past eight months.

What has been called the "valley gateway park committee" was scheduled to meet late this week to formulate plans for acquiring the "island" property at the intersection of Highway 1 and Carmel Valley Road and raise money to transform the land into a public park.

The committee, under the temporary chairmanship of Dr. A. L. VanMeter, includes Corum Jackson, Frederick Farr, Gunnar Norberg and Stanley Pedder.

Just how far the committee has projected its plans is not known, but actual work on the proposed park cannot start until the State Highway Department has finished widening the highway where it passes the valley entrance. Nothing is contemplated by this agency until June 30, 1952, it is reliably reported.

The committee, appointed last year by A. B. Jacobsen, chairman of the Monterey County Board of Supervisors, expects to allow ample time for enlisting public support of its program, which calls for raising money by public subscription, among other things.

WEST COAST PILOTS INVITED TO FLY TO MISSION DEDICATION

An invitation has been extended to all pilots on the West Coast by the King City Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol to attend the dedication ceremonies at Mission San Antonio de Padua on June 4.

Among those scheduled to appear at the colorful mission restoration dedication festivities are Governor Earl Warren, Lieutenant Governor Goodwin J. Knight, Bishop Aloysius J. Willinger of the Monterey-Fresno Diocese, Lt. General Albert C. Wedemeyer, Commander of the Sixth Army, Joseph R. Knowland, Past Grand President of the Native Sons of the Golden West, and several Hollywood motion picture and radio stars.

CAP members under the command of Lt. Clifford R. Harris will act as hosts to the many flyers who are expected to attend the program.

"A mile-long strip, formerly used by the Army," stated Harris, "is located 17 miles southwest of King City near the mission. All flyers will be given transportation from the air strip to the mission," he continued. Gasoline and oil facilities will be available.

The formal program will include a radio broadcast and will be filmed for newsreels throughout the country. A full symphony orchestra composed of members of the Hollywood Bowl will perform. The combined Franciscan choirs from Missions Santa Barbara and San Luis Rey will also appear on the program.

Harris reminded pilots that a huge barbecue will be served at noon. This will be of the Spanish pit type and everything will be prepared in advance. The California Mission Trails Association has been selected by the Mission authorities to handle all of the details of this unusual event. The Mission Trails staff is planning food requirements on the basis of advance sale of barbecue tickets and everyone who has a ticket is guaranteed a full meal.

The SPECTRE

By CERF ANDSAND

The editors of the Ladies Home Journal passed through Carmel last week and transported a local girl to Hollywood where she will be photographed to see if she is photogenic enough for a Journal cover picture. Fifteen year old Sally Holt, Carmel High School student, is the lucky girl. She was selected in connection with the cover series the magazine has been running on "undiscovered American beauty"...

Pokomoonshine Park, known as "Pokey," who was featured in a recent First Theater production, has disappeared from home. He is a Siamese cat, white and cinnamon colored, with a belled collar. If anyone sees him, please tell him to contact Helen Clark Park, of Carmel, who shares her home with him and says she will forgive all if he returns ...

The dining room of the Holiday Inn on Carmel Point will be open to the public starting today, rather than just for guests as heretofore. New owners of the establishment are James M. Glazer, of Pebble Beach, and William Dewey, of Carmel ...

John Todd, son of Marian Todd, executive secretary of the Community Chest here, has taken a job as reporter on the Lodi News-Sentinel. He edited the newspaper at Monterey Peninsula College. Haven't had time to check it, but hear that Martin Flavin has been asked by LIFE to take a trip around the world, all expenses paid, and write about whatever he wants. Nice work, if you can get it ...

Carmel School Vote Thursday

On Thursday, June 1, voters of the Carmel Unified School District will go to the polls to accept or reject a school bond issue which has been cut more than half since it was defeated February 28 at a million dollar figure.

The new $478,000 bond issue will provide the following construction: Carmel River School in the Mission Tract, $250,948; Completion of Carmel Woods School, $70,602; One classroom at Carmel High School, $15,000; Architect's fees, state checking and filing fees, tests, inspector's salary and miscellaneous, $41,450. The bond can be financed with a tax rate of 13 cents or less per $100 of assessed value, members of the School Board report.

"ARSENIC & OLD LACE" AT FORT ORD CLUB

"Arsenic and Old Lace," favorite hilarious who-dunnit of millions all over the country, will be presented at the Fort Ord Service Club, Saturday and Sunday at 8 p.m.

The cast of the show includes Dorothy Mitchell as Abby Brewster, Inga Timony as Martha Brewster, Stanley Rutherford as Jonathan Brewster, Wilfred Ingalls as Teddy Brewster, James Stumpf as Dr. Einstein, Robert McKenna as Dr. Harper, Virgil Herring as Officer Brophy, Earl Esgate as Officer Klein, Barbara McCrank as Elain Harper, Ragsdale Baily as Mr. Gibbs, Don Timothy as Officer O'Hara, Kenneth Spitler as Lt. Rooney and Robert McKenna as Witherspoon.

Admission to the show is free, and the public and all Fort Ord personnel are invited to attend.

CARMEL MEMORIAL DAY CEREMONIES TUESDAY

Memorial Day ceremonies will be conducted in Carmel on Tuesday, May 30, under the auspices of Carmel American Legion Post 512. As in previous years, the celebration will be held in Devendorf Plaza. A half-hour musical program will start at 10:30 a.m., and a half-hour formal program at 11.

Admiral Richmond Kelly Turner, USN (Ret), who will act as master of ceremonies, announced that a chief feature will be laying a wreath on the memorial monument in the plaza, in honor of all American war dead, and in special memory of Gordon Bain, the first Carmel man to lose his life in World War II. Other features of the exercises will be: an opening prayer by the Carmel post chaplain, the Rev. Alfred B. Seccombe of All Saints' Church; remarks by Carmel Post Commander James M. Kelsey; an address by Commander John S. Chitwood, USN (Ret), member of the Carmel City Council; the traditional three volley salute to the dead by a Fort Ord firing detail; "Taps" on the bugle; and a benediction by the chaplain of the Naval School, Commander David J. McDonald, USN.

Miss Linda Bain, Carmel High School junior, and the sister of Gordon Bain, will lay the memorial wreath at the foot of the Carmel World War II monument during the Memorial Day ceremonies. She will be escorted by her father, Miles Bain, and by Post Commander Kelsey.

Organizations participating in the Carmel Memorial Day ceremony include American Legion Post, the Ladies Auxiliary of the Post, a Fort Ord bugle and firing detail, Boy Scout Troops Nos. 32 and 86, Sea Scouts, Ship 86, Scout Cub Packs 3 and 107, and 12 Troops of Girl Scouts, 6 Brownie and 6 Intermediate. Gold Star Mothers and Gray Ladies have been invited as special guests. The Carmel High School will provide the public address system to be used during the exercises.

It has been pointed out by Admiral Turner that, while these ceremonies will be conducted by the Carmel Post of the American Legion, and will especially feature a hero of World War II, our national Memorial Day has a very broad significance. Memorial Day is held to permit all citizens, whether or not connected with veterans' organizations, to honor those who lost their lives in any of America's wars. He added that the Carmel Post believes now, with such uncertain days ahead for America, it is particularly important to render the universal debt of respect to all our military dead. The Post is therefor hopeful of a large public attendance at Devendorf Plaza on May 30, he said.

800 Hear General Deane Describe Russian Thinking

"Russia's main objective is to exhaust the United States economically and foster disagreement. They will try to gain their objectives peacefully, if possible."

This declaration was made Saturday by Major General John R. Deane, U.S. Army (retired), military representative to Moscow during 1943/45, who was the main speaker at the large Armed Forces Day luncheon held at the Navy General Line School in Monterey.

General Deane, who spoke before 800 persons assembled in the main dining room of the school, was introduced by Glenn T. Goodwill, presiding officer, who heads the Monterey school system.

The general, author of the best selling book, "The Strange Alliance," recounted many wartime incidents between the United States and Russia. To these he added personal observations which stemmed from his close touch with the Russian people and their leaders.

Although General Deane feels that the United States has been "much more successful" in its relationship with the Reds during the past two years, he warned that any signs of appeasement in Washington will be taken as weakness, and that "the Russians respect strength."

"Communism and Capitalism cannot co-exist is the belief of Russia," the general said, adding that the American people have become aware of the danger of Communism, a fact which, along with the Red defection in Yugoslavia and Poland, places the U.S. in a stronger position than it held two of three years ago.

When General Deane went to Moscow in 1943 to head America's military mission, he felt he was going under the most favorable circumstances as his orders were to lend full support to the Russian military. Even though General George C. Marshall had instructed him to offer U.S. equipment and strategic information, his experience was "a string of broken promises and lack of cooperation." The Reds demanded groups visas for American GI's who worked on U.S. air bases in Russia and, for some time, wanted the American Air Force to operate the bases without benefit of communications. Later, they okayed the communications - as long as a Russian censor was on hand.

"You would like the Russian people if you knew them," General Deane said. "They are generous and friendly, but too closely controlled by the secret police."

To prove how much the Russians have swallowed Communism he cited the case of a well educated woman who had been born on a landed estate. Watching a farcical theatrical presentation with her and amazed at the outright propaganda theme, he mentioned his thoughts to her. She said:

"Oh, I know it is propaganda, but we Russians are engaged in a great experiment, well worth the propaganda."

General Deane concluded that America could expect little from the average Russian when a well-educated person was so taken in.

The general ended his speech on a note of warning. The Russians want to win out over the United States as cheaply as possible, he said, and they will try to do so peacefully.

"They want to exhaust us," he stated.

"Every time we aid another country we should be sure it will help us when the chips are down," said General Deane.

Welcoming address was given by Captain T. J. Casey, commanding officer of the navy school, while invocation and benediction were rendered, respectively, by Dr. John A. Logan, pastor of Monterey Presbyterian Church, and the Reverend Father John J. Ryan, of San Carlos Catholic Church. Music was provided by the Monterey Union High School band under Clifford Anderson, director.

A COMMUNIST IS RUNNING FOR STATE SCHOOL POST

This publication seldom extends its editorial comment to other than purely local issues, but the June 6 primaries for the State of California lists at least one person we are dead sure we do not want elected.

Bernadette Doyle, candidate for the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction, is an avowed Communist; chairman and education director of the Communist Party of San Diego. Party affiliations for this office are not marked on the ballot, so we pass this information along to voters who may not be aware of Bernadette Doyle's political faith. Many persons, unaware that she is a Communist, may vote for her merely because they feel a woman should have the post. They could not make a bigger mistake.

Bernadette Doyle seeks to inject instruction in Communist doctrine into the California school system. Bear this in mind when you go to the polls on Tuesday, June 6.

NOTHING BUT SUPERLATIVES FOR 'HAPPY BIRTHDAY'

By Bill Martin

When a reviewer sees a good play well done he finds himself using the superlative in as many ways as his vocabulary will allow. This is true for the opening night performance of Anita Loos' "Happy Birthday," staged by The Wharf Players and starring Carmel's Ruth McElroy.

The superlative of all superlatives must go to Mrs. McElroy, the star, and to Dan Totheroh, the director. As Addie, a spinsterish woman who finds love and happiness, plus friendship, getting pixillated in a cheap saloon, Mrs. McElroy portrays just about every emotion in the book. More important, since "Happy Birthday" is a comedy, she draws real humour from each mood, starting off quietly prudish, advancing to hilarious drunkeness and ending quietly in love.

Mr. Totheroh's effectiveness as a director got a real test with this play. Throughout most of its two acts there are seldom less than a dozen persons onstage who, divided into small groups at tables in the bar, must carry out action silently while the principles hold forth. The perfect timing of the entire production, the enthusiasm of the players and the unity of presentation speak well of his ability-which perhaps needs no comment in these parts.

Ken Smith, the producer, without whom The Wharf Players would not have been possible, to use Mr. Totheroh's own words, was wonderful as an aging, white-aproned waiter whose sensibilities suffered at the sight of Mrs. McElroy's apparent waywardness. Other strong characterizations were rendered by Tom Gardner, a drunken lawyer, and Marian Todd and Joy King, as equally drunken elderly floosies.

Carol McEuen, as Myrtle, was silent through most of the play, but came through pertly in her big scene. Others who depended on brief scenes and who carried them off expertly were Terry Eby, Beverly Porter, Larry Rose, Eileen McDermott, Glenn Kearns, Charles Kilian, Bill Fort (What a dancer!) and Betty Carr. Chandler Smith and Hank Choisser, who had the two violent roles, managed to be funny and menacing at the same time. Grace McKenney depicted a tried and true character with freshness - a hardboiled woman with a heart of gold.

Now a word about two of the most difficult roles: those which fell to Cole Weston and Betty McDougal. Mr. Weston, as a conceited and neurotic bank clerk, had to appear sympathetic to the heroine and to the audience, and still play the fool. He did just that.

Miss McDougal's performance as a sexy femme fatale certainly didn't suffer for a lack of natural attributes necessary to the role. Add to this her acting ability and you come up with one of the most vixenish gals we've seen in a long time.

The play depended to great extent on correct lighting, which it got from Lloyd Weer. Since the locale of the play was the "Monterey Hotspot," anyone who has been on Alvarado Street will agree that the set design, by Vic Mantilla, was authentic Monterey Tavern. Space will not permit detail in credits to the production staff, but the following persons had a hand in bringing off the play as the success it was: Fred Chapman, Meribeth Davis, Helen Prosser, Ruth Hawkes, Janie Parker, Byron Dague, John Mitchell and Mary McElroy.

The seats were comfortable, the auditorium (an old warehouse, revitalized) warm and airy, and visibility clear.

The Wharf Players are in business.

BRAMBLETT IMPROVING, MAY COME HOME THIS WEEKEND

Congressman E. K. Bramblett's injured leg responded to treatment during the last week and his doctor decided for the time being not to operate on the knee, according to word received today from Mrs. Bramblett in Washington.

Mrs. Bramblett also reported that the doctor has given tentative consent to Mr. Bramblett's plans to return to California this weekend if his improvement continues.

The Bramblett campaign committee stated that even though Mr. Bramblett would be in the district a week before the primary elections his campaign activities would be limited. No daily schedules for his visit will be arranged until he has arrived and is decided how much he can comfortably do.

If the sun finally decides to show itself more frequently we might be able to take our new summer dresses out of their closets. Their new lignes and style require new accessories. While hats show a slight tendency to get bigger, bags seem smaller. During the day, they are mostly box-bags; made of fine leather, they have a lot of little pockets to hold the numerous little things a woman has to take along. For the cocktail hour or the evening they can be as fancy as you wish. Henry a la Pensee created a cocktail-bag attached to a rhinestone bracelet. You put the bracelet on and your bag is "at hand" all evening.

Henry à la Pensée
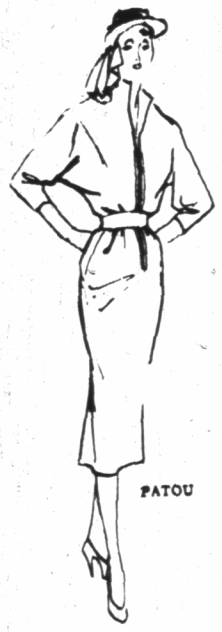
3 et 5, rue du Faubourg-Saint-Honoré.

Seldom bare, the neck se vet (literally translated: dresses itself) with collars and necklaces - so that one may forget (or notice more easily) the audacious neckline that follows: Pearls or bright colored rhinestone necklaces twisted about the neck, sometimes reaching just under the chin... red copper rigid circles... chains made with motives of heraldry... 1830 collars (with a low decollete they are most charming), with wide organdy cravats, long mousselines scarves and tiny chiffon or ribbon ties.

The ears, since they are exposed by the short hair-dos, cover themselves with bright rings, leaves and flowers of all kinds.



You will put on your arm, bare to the shoulder, one large bracelet, either above the elbow or tight around the wrist. It can be made of heavy gold or copper chains or (the very latest novelty) tortoise shell. Sometimes it may even be a muslin, silk, or organdy handkerchief of bright color.

Accessories give a finishing touch to any ensemble, so choose them carefully. They are the reflexion of your good taste.

CARMEL WOMAN'S CLUB FLOWER SHOW PROFITS TO BE ANNOUNCED

Net profits from the recent and very successful flower show of the Carmel Woman's Club will be announced at the annual meeting on Monday, June 5, according to Mrs. Helen Clark Cranston, garden chairman.

In Monday's meeting, Mrs. Howard Thomas, well known garden consultant of San Francisco, gave an effective demonstration of flower arranging. Tea was served by Mrs. Hugo Bedau and her committee: Mrs. Eva Belangee, Miss Elsa Campbell, Mrs. John Withycombe and Mrs. Ella Harris. Pouring were President Mrs. Annie Vaughan, who has returned from an eastern trip, and Mrs. William N. Eklund.

The next meeting will feature a book section program, "The Boy David," a dramatic reading by Mrs. Tod Sperling, Monday at 2 p.m. at the clubhouse. Mrs. Grace C. Howden, book section chairman, requests the audience to arrive promptly as late comers will disturb the action of the drama.

ATTENDS CORONADO REALTY MEETING

Mrs. Gladys R. Johnston left Carmel this morning on a flying trip to Coronado where she will attend a directors meeting tomorrow of the California Real Estate Association. Mrs. Johnston will also attend the meeting of the convention program committee of the CREA to lay plans for the State Convention which will be held this year at Santa Cruz in October.

TO VISIT COLORADO

Mrs. J. L. Sargent, of Pebble Beach, left this week with her daughter, Mary, to visit another daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Smedley, of Littleton, Colorado. Mrs. Sargent will return home in two or three weeks, while her daughter will go on to Massachusetts for several months.

VISIT CARMEL FRIENDS

Enroute to Japan from Washington, D.C., Captain and Mrs. Vernon Gilipin spent the weekend in Carmel visiting friends. Colonel and Mrs. A. Gordon Bagley entertained them Saturday with dinner at the Mission Ranch. Accompanying the Gilipins to Carmel was Miss Genevieve Atkinson, of San Francisco.

ANOTHER BIG POWER PLANT GOES TO WORK

Monterey County started producing a new crop today.. a bumper crop of electricity.

In a former broccoli and artichoke patch near Elk Horn Slough on Monterey Bay, Pacific Gas and Electric Company's new Moss Landing Steam Plant went to work churning out 134,000 horsepower of electricity in the first of three giant generators. The other two generators will be ready for operation next Spring.

When it is in full service, the Moss Landing plant will be the largest single generating station on the P. G. and E. system. It represents an investment of $51,500,000. A work force of 1800 men set a construction record in less than two years from the day land-clearing began.

A. B. Jacobsen, chairman of the Monterey County Supervisors, was the principal speaker at brief dedicatory ceremonies at the plant today. He welcomed the "kilowatt factory" to the area and described it as the biggest industrial development in the county's history.

"It has cost more money to build, it covers more acres of land (271), and it will contribute more revenue in local taxes than any other single industrial development in the history of Monterey County," Jacobsen said.

Moss Landing is the 8th new power plant constructed and placed in operation by P. G. and E. since the end of the war. The generating capacity of the new plants aggregates 1,156,400 horsepower. The second and third generating units at Moss Landing and completion of the Contra Costa Steam Plant in the summer of next year will add 670,000 horsepower to the postwar additions. The total will virtually double the company's prewar capacity.

Other speakers at the dedication included PG&E vice presidents L. H. Anderson and D. D. Smalley, of San Francisco, and H. F. Cleary, project manager for Stone and Webster Engineering Corporation, the general contractor. T. Emmett Ward, of Salinas, Coast Valleys Division Manager of PG&E, was master of ceremonies and host.

MONDAY DEADLINE FOR VETERANS' TAX EXEMPTIONS

Deadline for veterans who wish to apply for exemptions on property taxes is Monday at 5 p.m., according to Claude Estill, veteran's service officer, who states that applications must be made in local offices.

Applications should be filed at the city clerk's office in Monterey, Pacific Grove and Carmel, and at Reed's Hardware Store, Sixth and Railroad Avenue, Seaside.

Household Hint

For added storage space under your kitchen sink, add narrow side shelves, racks on doors, hooks or sliding rods. Be careful not to make permanent installations that would interfere with plumbing repairing.

Folk Dancers, Photogs Here

As if Memorial Day weekend were not enough, Monterey Peninsula will be jammed with people today, Saturday and Sunday who are either attending a peninsula photo contest or the Fifth Annual Statewide Folk Dance Festival.

Clarence Bates, Carmel sculptor, has been commissioned by the Monterey Peninsula Junior Chamber of Commerce to create an appropriate trophy for the winners of the photo contest which it will sponsor this weekend. Costumed dancers will be available as models and photographers will be invited to shoot the spectacle of thousands of brightly-clad dancers who will participate in folk dances of all areas of the world.

Prizes are being awarded to the best photographic entries in three divisions: (1) Best picture of a Monterey sea or landscape. (2) Best picture of the Folk Dance Festival or of a festival participant. (3) Best "cheesecake" picture with a Monterey background.

The sponsorship of the photo contest was taken over by the Junior Chamber of Commerce when a well-publicized trek from the San Francisco Bay area to the Monterey Peninsula was suddenly called off last week. More than 1,000 photographers had been expected to make the trip.

Photographs submitted must have been taken during this weekend. They should be sent no later than June 10 to the Monterey Peninsula Junior Chamber of Commerce, Box 500, Del Monte. Entry blanks are available at the C. of C. building, the Casa Munras and at Monterey High School; also at McKay's, 470 Alvarado, Monterey, Beaux Arts Studio (Pine Inn), Carmel, and at the Camera Exchange, 549 Lighthouse Avenue, Pacific Grove.

SATURDAY PARADE IN MONTEREY

A parade tomorrow in Monterey will mark the opening of the Junior American Legion baseball season. Fred Sorri, historian for Peninsula Post 41, reports that a large imitation locomotive will take part in the procession.

During the afternoon, it's batter up as the peninsula team starts the season at the ball park in Monterey.

Mayor Allen Knight, of Carmel, is seen above making the donation which brings him the first Memorial Day poppy to be distributed in Carmel. The poppy program, handled by American Legion Auxiliary, Carmel Unit 512, runs through today and Saturday, with women of the auxiliary distributing the flowers on the streets. Accepting Mayor Knight's contribution and pinning the poppy to his lapel are Bonnie Giles, left, president of the auxiliary, and Mrs. Hazel Maury, chairman of the poppy program. POLAROID ONE-MINUTE PHOTO.

TRAVELING ASSEMBLY

Tuesday last, the traveling assembly put on its first performance before hitting the road. For you who do not know what a traveling assembly is: it is a variety show produced by dramatic classes of the different high schools. These assemblies travel from school to school, thereby providing an opportunity for better relationships between the schools.

NEAR TRAGEDY

During the initiations at Carmel High School last Thursday, the pledges were made to tow a car around the parking lot. Skipper Lloyd, one of the pledges, tripped and fell in front of the slowly moving car. A tragedy was averted when the boy in the driver's seat slammed on the brakes. Although Skipper was dragged some two feet and pinned under the left front tire, he was not hurt as badly as he might have been, sustaining only bad scrapes and bruises to his arms and face. After being rushed to the Peninsula Hospital by ambulance, it was discovered there were no broken bones or internal injuries.

SEEK CONTRIBUTIONS FOR BARDARSON SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Community groups and organizations are being contacted by the board of trustees of the Otto W. Bardarson Scholarship Fund, which was started in 1943 to help put Carmel students through college, and now needs new funds to keep it going.

"We hope to raise some money each year," a trustee's letter states, "to build up the fund, as, at the present time, the fund is decreasing."

The fund was started as a tribute to the late Otto W. Bardarson, who was principal of the Sunset School and, later, superintendent of the Carmel Unified School District.

The scholarships are awarded for "character, scholastic record and financial need."

Members of the board of trustees are Michael Balazs, chairman; Mrs. Howard E. Clark, Peter J. Ferrante, the Rev. K. Fillmore Gray, Mrs. Florinda Holm, Mrs. Helen Levinson, Peter Mawdsley, Mrs. Vera Peck Mills, P. A. Mc Creery, Stuart Mitchell, Ernest Morehouse, the Rev. Alfred B. Seccombe, Mrs. Marion D. Shand, Donald L. Staniford, Jack Marsh Laughlin and Howard Timbers.

PINE INN RESUMES "CLOTHESLINE" ART SHOW

The Pine Inn Garden Restaurant's famous "Clothesline" Art Show, which was discontinued two years ago, will be resumed Sunday to run every Saturday and Sunday until Labor Day.

Everyone can submit art work to be hung in the dining patio at the Pine Inn. Entries must be brought to the Carmel Art Association Galleries, and today is the deadline for the Sunday show. Paintings may be in any medium.

WHO IS IT?

Dr. K. Fillmore Cray, pastor of the Church of the Wayfarer, Carmel, is featured in this week's "Who Is It?" Although Dr. Gray has been in Carmel only since June of 1947, he was raised near here and his family has resided in Californic since his grandparents arrived in 1869 and 1878. Born in Hollister, he went to school there and at San Jose, eventually attending San Jose State as a speech major and receiving his AB degree. He belonged to the San Jose Players and Kappa Delta Pi, honorary fraternity. After receiving his AM degree at Boston University in 1935, Dr. Gray travelled extensively in Europe before enrolling at the Boston University School of Theology. In 1936, he graduated with honors with his STB and, the following year, married the former Dorothea C. Furrill, of North Hollywood. They now have two children: Stephen and Stanton, born in 1943 and 1946 respectively. Dr. Gray, having been ordained a minister in Boston, 1935, and Stockton, 1936, served several churches in Mill Valley and Oakland (as well as student churches in East Kingston, N.H. and Denver) before coming to Carmel. He obtained his Th.D. at the Iliff School of Theology, Denver, in 1941, and was recently selected to appear in Who's Who In Methodism for his work with ministericl training in this denomination. Formerly church editor for the Oakland Tribune, Dr. Gray is a member of the Californic Conference Board of Ministerial Training, registrar and dean of the Pastors' Summer School of the California-Nevada Conference, and a member of three national conferences of ministerial training, held at Evanston, Ill.

"UNKISSED BRIDE" AT FIRST THEATER

MUSICAL ARTS CLUB CHOOSES YOUTHS FOR STUDENT CONCERT

After hearing auditioning students, the Musical Arts Club has announced those chosen to appear in the annual student concert presented by this organization.

Mrs. Carl Neutzel, chairman of the auditions committee, gave names of the following as successful auditionees: Helen Gehringer, ballet dancer; Donna Rae Bennett, pianist; Albert Witt, tenor; Rene Wurzmann, ballet dancer; Anne Thoeni, pianist; Henry Smith, tuba soloist; Amy Mauzey, soprano; John Hunt, pianist, and June Canoles, violinist.

All performers are students of peninsula teachers who presented a representative number for their audition. The concert will be presented June 4 at the Carmel Woman's Club and guest tickets will be available at the door.

BECOMES ATLANTIC MONTHLY POETRY CONTEST FINALIST

Placing among the finalists in the Atlantic Monthly College Poetry Contest are three poems, "Litany," "Lupine and Light," and "Red-Cold" by Shelagh Scoville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Scoville, Jr., of Pebble Beach. Miss Scoville also wins Honorable Mention in the Chaparral Sonnet Contest for College Students for "The Ungathered." The Atlantic's Board of Judges notes in her poetry a "sharpness and freshness of observation, with a sense of emotion under control." Miss Scoville, who will graduate from Dominican tomorrow, has recently broadcast a reading of her poems over San Rafael's KTIM.

Cochranes Write From England

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cochrane, of Carmel, now on an extended tour of Europe, will be interested to learn that a letter from Mrs. Cochrane in England has been received by the editor of this publication. Excerpts follow:

"We are stopping at an inn near a golf links just outside the famous town of Plymouth, which was one of the most heavily bombed during the war and still is a shambles. However, looking over this beautiful golf course as I sit on the verandah writing just at sunset, one would never know there has been a bombing.

"After leaving the ship at Southhampton we went directly to London, where the mad whirl started. We saw several shows and, on Saturday, were invited by Sir Arthur Elvin, managing director of the famous stadium at Wembley where the last Olympics were held, to be his guests at a luncheon preceding the match for the rugby football championship of Great Britain.

"Our table at the luncheon included such notables as Prime Minister Atlee, his wife and two daughters, Sir James Barnes, air minister, and Lady Barnes, and Lord and Lady Elvin, as well as others. Mr. Atlee had many questions to ask about the United States. During the games we sat next to the royal box, which was occupied by King George and Queen Elizabeth and some others of the royal family. It was really quite an occasion.

"On Sunday we were guests at a cocktail party at the home of the Elvins and then had dinner with Mrs. Mary Katherine Barnes, managing director of our hotel. Monday morning we left for the South of England and spent one day at the country estate of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hardwick, parents of Mary Hardwick, former British tennis champion. The Hardwicks have a beautiful estate near Salisbury, England. This morning we left there and are now on our way to the southwest corner of the county from where we will start north for Scotland..."

Best to All,
Bobbie Cochrane,
Plymouth, England

Mr. Cochrane, who is writing a series of articles on Europe for a syndicated press, has left correspondence to Carmel to his wife. We will be hearing from her now and then. -- Ed.

Seen at the Pebble Beach Gun Club where all three spend a great many hours, are (left to right) Paul Clark, Mrs. Robert Buckner and John Boit Morse, all of Pebble Beach. The Pebble Beach Gun Club is holding its third handicap skeet shoot on Sunday, with two rounds at 10 a.m. and two rounds at 2 p.m. Photo by JULIAN P. GRAHAM.

RICE CURRENTLY CAMPAIGNING IN MONTEREY COUNTY

George L. Rice, Democratic candidate for Assembly from the 33rd Assembly, has been conducting a vigorous campaign through Monterey and San Luis Obispo, the two counties which comprise the district. He has endorsement of the California State Labor League for Political Education as well as the Monterey County and San Luis Obispo County chapters of Labor's League for Political Education.

He has also been endorsed by the California Democratic State Central Committee, the Monterey Improvement Club, the Monterey Seine and Line Fisherman's Union (AFL) and the Cannery Workers Union (AFL) in Monterey.

Rice, a Navy veteran of the recent war, makes his home in Carmel.

Household Hint

Never use hot water to remove blood stains; it will set them. Cold or lukewarm water should be used for soaking, or rub them in the water until they turn light brown in color. Then wash the material in the usual way in hot soapsuds and rinse well.

HIS GOAL IS HIGH - - - By Alan Maver

DON NEWCOMBE, BROOKLYN HURLER, WHOSE SUPPORTERS HAD BEEN TOUTING HIM FOR A 30-WIN SEASON BEFORE COMING UP WITH A SORE ARM!
BEGINNING WITH A BANG
DON'S POOR START IN THE OPENER (HE DIDN'T LAST 2 INNINGS) MIGHT BE A GOOD OMEN — HE WAS POUNDED IN HIS INITIAL 1949 APPEARANCE BUT WENT ON TO WIN ROOKIE-OF-THE YEAR HONORS!
HOWEVER, THAT 30-GAME GOAL HAS BEEN REACHED ONLY ONCE IN THE PAST 32 YEARS, BY DIZZY DEAN IN '34 — DAZZY VANCE'S 28 IN 1924 WAS THE CLOSEST ANY MODERN DODGER HAS COME!
